Hear Ye, Hear Ye

To all to whom it might concern

Let it be known by this declaration that

This facsimile document of a letter

From: Alan Broob, O. H. P. C. A.

To: Joseph "Robinette" Biden, President Pro Tem of the U. S. A.

Regarding: Alan Broob's obvious qualifications for the position of Postmaster General of the United States Postal Service

(Document tracking number: 9505 5162 9661 1091 3990 54)

Is released under Creative Commons License

Attribution-NonCommercial 4.0 International (CC BY-NC 4.0)

Which the literate among you can read about here:

https://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-nc/4.0/

For the more dense among you, this means that you can reproduce this in its entirety, including this statement, and share it.

However you may not modify it or make any moolah off it.

Address all support for Alan Broob's appointment in writing using your own words to: Joseph Biden, President Pro Tem,
1600 Pennsylvania Ave., Washington DC 20500.

Address disappointment in Donald Trump's failure to accept Alan's numerous offers to serve his country to: Donald Trump, President No Mo Tem, 1100 South Ocean Boulevard, Palm Beach, Florida 33480

You may track Alan's career and

And further documents as they become declassified

At: AlanBroob.com

April 1, 2021

Joseph "Robinette" Biden Jr. 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue Washington, DC 20500

Dear President Pro Tem Biden,

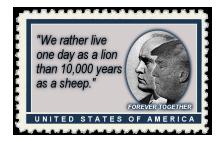

I wish to apply for the position of Postmaster General of the USPS. I had applied for this position in December, 2018 at the time Donald Trump was our Supreme Leader. Unfortunately, my application was classified top secret, so I could not talk about it in public.

Now, it appears my application has been declassified by your administration and returned to me. I have attached it for your consideration.

At the time, I was suggesting I could help our leader by issuing stamps commemorating Him. Unfortunately for me He found a postmaster who was able to serve him in ways I hadn't anticipated.

Now that the left-wing media has apparently convinced the majority of Americans that you won the election, if you install me as PG I will repurpose my stamp designs as part of an "American Presidential Villain" series.

Here are just a few examples. I refer you to my prior application for additional specimens.

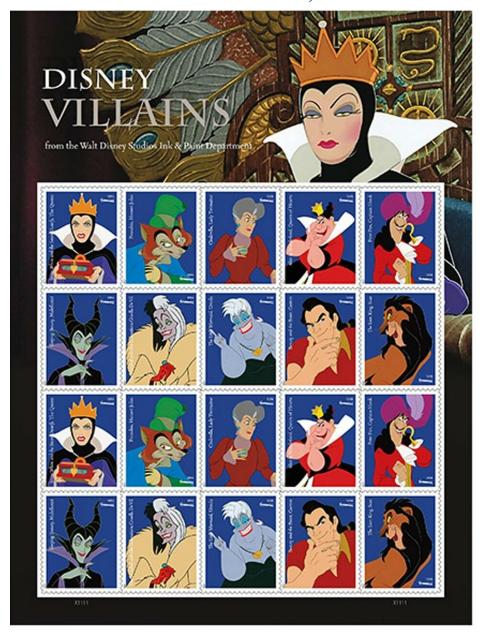

There is ample precedent. As evidence, consider the Disney Villain series issued under your predecessor. (See attached.)

Regards,

Alam Brook

From the desk of: Alan Broob, O. H. P. C. A.*

Disney Villain Series issued by the U. S. P. S. under Trump administration in an obvious effort to:

- 1. Help the populace to embrace villainy as a way of life.
- 2. Make current administration figures appear less cartoonish by comparison.
- 3. Celebrate the close ties between government and private enterprise.

December 24, 2018

President Donald Trump I 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue Washington, DC 20500

Dear Commander-in-Chief,

I ask myself not what my Commander-in-Chief can do for me but rather what I can do for my Commander-in-Chief.

After careful review of all of the various positions in your administration, most of which appear to become vacant at frequent intervals, I've determined that I can best serve you as your next Postmaster General.

Let's start with your current Postmaster General. Her name is Megan Brennan and she was appointed by Obama on February 1, 2015. Have you met her? She's kind of a porker, don't you think? She's got to go. (See Exhibit A.)

As if her looks and her loyalty to Obama weren't enough, she isn't doing anything to help Make America Great Again or make you even greater than you already are.

I don't know if she is ignorant, oblivious or willfully negligent but she is acting as if she doesn't know that, since 2011, U. S. Postage stamps may commemorate living people.

If she did know it, you would think that by now she would have begun issuing stamps commemorating you. There is no better way to unify a nation than behind its chief military commander. To illustrate what I mean, on the following pages I present some stamp designs that I'd issue immediately after you make me Postmaster General.

As any stamp collector knows, the current batch of stamps are nothing more than peel-off stickers designed for children and idiots. When you make me PG I will bring back classic stamps designs from when America was Truly Great and make them even greater by glorifying the POTUS.

Trump Forever Series

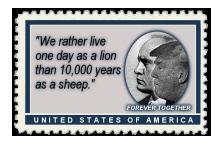

Inspiration:

Alan Broob Proposal:

Proposal

Trump Achievements

Inspiration: Proposal

Trump Buildings

Inspiration

Comparison of Definitive Series U. S. A. vs Germany in 1930's

Note that all the people on the American definitive stamps of the 1930's are: 1) Dead, 2) Obscure, 3) Boring.

Think how much faster the U. S. A. would have gotten out of the Great Depression and won World War II if we had it not been Anit-Fasist but rather anti-ANTIFA. We needed clear messaging in support of a strong Republican president, do we not?

Today is just like 1939. Our economy has been decimated by a Democratic administration and democracy in general. Europe once again poses a threat to world order. We cannot afford to make the same mistakes twice. We are mighty and, as before, might must make right.

Occupied Territories:

Hitler was able to win the hearts and minds of occupied territories by overprinting his German stamps with the names of the countries he occupied and then requiring these stamps be used for postage.

This tactic will be equally effective in the current circumstances. In addition, by requiring that occupied territories use vastly more expensive stamps than necessary we can get them to fund their own reconstruction efforts following our invasions or natural disasters.

Although you, Mr. Trump, are clearly a master of modern social media, please do not overlook the propaganda potential of the U. S. Postal Service.

If elected, I will ensure that you will increase your power a thousandfold. What's more, it can be very lucrative because it is only fair that we pay you royalties for every stamp sold that bears your name and image.

On top of that, how would you like to make a cool $100 million dollars overnight?

This is how it will work. My first act as Postmaster General will be to announce that we will sell and repurchase stamps from the general public in $1 billion lots. This creates a tremendous opportunity for the wealthy of our great nation to make our nation greater by becoming wealthier.

You see, a "forever" stamp is good for first-class postage regardless of the increase in price. For example, on January 26, 2019 the cost of a first class stamp is 50 cents but on the next day the cost of the same stamp will rise to 55 cents.

Under my administration I could sell you a billion dollars of stamps on the 26th for 50 cents and buy them back the next day for five cents more thus yielding a 10% return over a single night. The accounting for the Postal Service is in such a shambles that I doubt anyone will figure this out. And, if they do, it is clearly within your power to pardon all involved, including myself and yourself.

In conclusion, the time of the Roosevelts, the Kennedys, the Bushs and the Clintons are long gone. It is time for you to establish the Trump Dynasty.

I stand ready to serve. Just tell me when to start.

All the best,

Alan Brook

Alan Broob, O. H. P. C. A. and soon to be P. G. of the U. S. P. S.

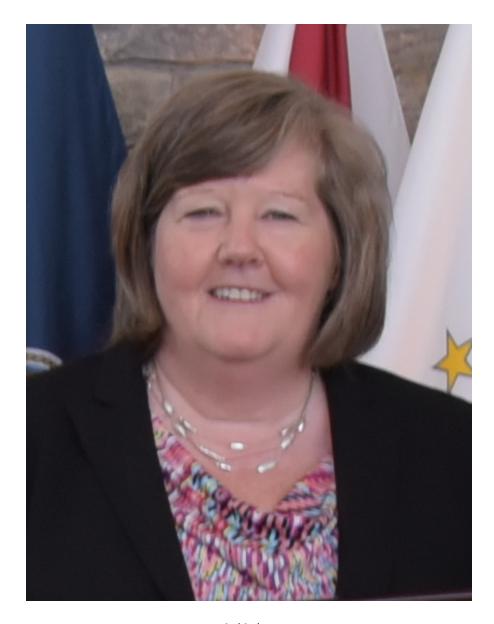

Exhibit A

Cathy Brennan: Postmaster General, Obama Era appointee and a bit of a porker. Need you say more?